

There is absolutely no reason for any individual to be able to purchase more than a single lethal weapon at one time, or more than even 1x a month. This has nothing to do with the 2nd amendment, it has everything to do with common sense. The NRA is labeling this as a scheme. There is nothing secretive or deceptive about efforts by rational law abiding people to lessen the guns legally sold to individuals. I completely disagree and fully stand in opposition to this bill.
